

DIANE'S ART CLASSES - TIME TABLE-SPRING 2010

I hope that you all have a very happy Christmas.

This Spring I am going to buy myself a camper van so that the dogs and I can go off travelling when the weather is good. What I would like to do, is travel around the coast line of the British Isles, painting and sketching as I go. Perhaps managing to join in with some other art clubs and societies as I meander around. But trying to decide on the right sort of camper van is a real head ache. The more vans I look at, the more confused I get. Far too much choice. I am thinking about a high top converted panel van. I have already bought lots of small sketch books, but not the van!

A new deal ... if you sign up for a term at £88 you can come to ALL of the weekday classes at ANY location for no extra cost. That's 77 hours of life drawing and tuition for only £1.14 hour!
